The Bulletin, after years of probation, trusts that it has become an established institution; it even dreams of appearing twice a year. The Editors hope that it may carry with its news of college and alumnae the sense of goodfellowship and warm college spirit. As all we alumnae are united by our common experiences at Barnard, so we have common interest in the growth and progress of the college and the importance and repute of its graduates. Write us what you are doing and what your friends are doing—the rest of us want to know. If you are not a member of the Association, we want to know about you just the same; but please join, for we think you are interested in our news and we can not send you The Bulletin unless you will help us pay the printer.

We hope that some of our readers may be able to supply the following publications to the Columbia Library to complete its collection of Barnardiana.

Barnard Annual 1896, 1897; Barnard Bear volume 1, number 4; volume 2, number 4; volume 4, number 4; Barnard Bulletin volume 2, numbers 8 and 12 (1901); volume 3, number 20 (May 27, 1902); volume 4, number 12; volume 5, numbers 17 and 18 (1903); volume 8, number 16 (January, 1905); volume 9, number 11 (May 8, 1905); volume 10, number 15 (January, 1906); volume 10, numbers 23, 27 and 30 (April-May, 1906); volume 11 complete; volume 14 complete; volume 16 complete; Mortarboard 1906 and 1911; Reports of the Alumnae Association 1901-1903; Reports of the New York City Graduate Club. Anything published.

THE QUARTER CENTURY FUND

DEAN GILDERSLEEVE

To satisfy some of the pressing needs which Barnard College feels so acutely, the Trustees have decided to commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the college by raising a fund of two million dollars. Of this, one million will be used to increase the endowment, in order to provide an income sufficient to pay fair salaries, secure enough instructors to teach the large classes effectively, and develop some important new fields of work. The second million will erect buildings to contain the much needed gymnasium, lunch rooms, rest rooms, reading rooms, and class studies, an auditorium large enough to contain the entire student body, and additional dormitories. The Committee of the Board of Trustees in charge of the campaign includes Miss Virginia C. Gildersleeve, Dean, William M. Grosvenor, Albert G. Milbank, John G. Milburn, Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osburn, Mrs. Herbert Parsons, George A. Plimpton, Miss Clara B. Spence.

The main committee of the alumnae comprises: Mrs. Herbert Parsons, Chairman, Miss Alice G. Chase, Secretary, Miss Eva E. vom Baur, Mrs. Allan B. A. Bradley, Mrs. George Endicott, Mrs. James E. Frame, Miss Irene Glenn, Miss Louise DeF. Greenawalt, Miss Anna C. Hallock, Mrs. George S. Hellman, Mrs. Alfred F. Hess, Miss May A. Johnson, Mrs. Adam Leroy Jones, Mrs. George McAneny, Mrs. Eugene Meyer, Jr., Miss Marguerite Newland, Mrs. George V. Mullan, Miss Elsie Plaut, Mrs. Sigmund Pollitzer, Miss Edna Stitt, Miss Florence S. Wyeth.

Additional alumnae committees are being formed in the various classes.

The Undergraduate Committee includes: Margaret Peck, '14, Chairman, Madeleine Bunzl, '13, Viola Turck, '13, Mary B. Kenny, '14, Rose Marie Wise, '14, Rhoda Erskine, '15, Eleanor Louria, '15, Dorette Fézandié, '16, Ruth Salom, '16, Helen Dana, '13, ex-officio.

Two important tasks have been occupying the attention of the committees. The first is to make the needs and the worth of the college known to the community. The second is the compilation of a catalogue of possible contributors to the fund, preparatory to an active canvass. It is of the utmost importance that all the alumnae should co-operate in sending to the Secretary the names of any persons they can think of who might possibly be induced to give money to the college.

In October, 1914, Barnard will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary. By that time we hope to have completed the two million dollar fund, in order that the college may begin its second quarter century of work adequately equipped to render still greater service to the community.

THE FRATERNITY QUESTION

DEAN GILDERSLEEVE

During the last year and more there has been active discussion of the advantages and disadvantages of fraternities at Barnard. Many of our students and alumnae regard these organizations as distinctly harmful to the college, whereas others believe as sincerely that they are highly beneficial. Student Council took up the question last autumn, and, after prolonged discussion by that body and by the Faculty Committee on Student Organizations, with free suggestions from individual students and alumnae, a plan of investigation was agreed upon. The Faculty Committee on Student Organizations invited four alumnae and four undergraduates to sit with it for the purpose of hearing and discussing testimony regarding fraternities at Barnard. The four alumnae, of whom two are fraternity members and two are not, are Mrs. George V. Mullan, '98, President of Associate Alumnae, Alice G. Chase, '96, ex-President, Gertrude Wells, '08, and Gertrude L. Hunter, '10. These were chosen partly by the Faculty Committee, after conference with alumnae officers, and partly by the Board of Directors of the Associate Alumnae. The four undergraduate representatives, of whom two are fraternity members and two are not, were selected by the undergraduates. They are Priscilla Lockwood, '13, Edith Rosenblatt, '13, Dorothy Herod, '13, and Louise Fox, '14. The Faculty Committee on Student Organizations is made up of the Dean, chairman, the Provost, Professor Braun, Professor Baldwin, Miss Weeks, and Mrs. Haskell.

This joint committee of fourteen is holding weekly sessions on Wednesday afternoons. It has already heard evidence from the members of the Student Council and from representatives of the eight fraternity chapters established at Barnard. It will seek for facts from the Faculty and other officers of the college and from additional undergraduates and alumnae. Any student or graduate who desires to testify is invited to send her name to the Secretary of the Committee, Mrs. J. S. Haskell, in order that an appointment may be arranged for her.

After hearing all the available evidence the Committee will endeavor to frame rules governing the society system at Barnard, and to decide whether the fraternity chapters should be remodelled or abolished. It is hoped that the prolonged investigation will lead to some constructive legislation of real and lasting value.

ALUMNAE ACTIVITIES

The Annual Meeting of the Associate Alumnae was held at ten o'clock on Saturday, October 26, 1912 in the theatre at Barnard. Miss Chase presided. There was the regular routine business: the reading of the annual reports of officers and committees, the announcement of the directors elected for the year 1912-13, and the election of officers. Miss Allen '01 gave an informal report of the work of the Intercollegiate Bureau of Occupations, and Miss Morgan '04, of that of the Publicity Committee.

The reports of the President and Directors chiefly concerned the organization of the Barnard representation on the board of the I. B. O. The Treasurer reported a balance, on Oct. 1, 1912, of $11,417.70 of which only $593.12 belongs to the general fund. The Membership Committee pointed out that only 831 out of 1,087 graduates were members and made a strong plea for more active allegiance, especially on the part of recent alumnae.

The Directors for 1912-13 are: Elizabeth Allen '02, Dorothy Brewster '06, Eva vom Baur '09, Mrs. Carlton Chapman '99, Pauline Dederer '01, Jean Disbrow '07, Lilian Egleston '10, Mrs. James E. Frame '04, Eleanor Gay '09, Clare Howard '03, Mrs. Floyd Keeler '04, Mrs. Geo. V. Mullan '98, Marguerite Newland '08, Mrs. Sigmund Pollitzer '93, Mrs. Robt. A. Stevenson '00, Edith Striker '99, Mrs. Edwin Van Riper '97. The officers elected from the Directors are: Mrs. Mullan, President; Elizabeth Allen, First Vice-Pres., Marguerite Newland, Second Vice-Pres., Lilian Egleston, Secretary, Jean Disbrow, Treas., Adaline Wheelock, Clerk. Chairmen of Standing Committees are: By-Laws, Printing, etc., F. Theodora Baldwin; Finance, E. Allen; Membership, Doris Long; Nominating, Mrs. Geo. L. Close; Reunion, Mrs. Chas. M. Kervan; Statistics, Amy Loveman; Students' Aid, Mabel Parsons; Undergraduate Interests, Marguerite Newland. Chairmen of Special Committees are: Alumnae Athletics, Lillian Schoedler; Employment, Agnes L. Dickson; Bureau of Occupations, E. Allen; Publicity, C. E. Morgan.

The Employment Committee reported that the amount earned by appointments increased without additional expense. From Oct. 15 to Oct. 16, 1912, 73 appointments were made, aggregating a total of $11,239.75. Undergraduates are being urged into non-teaching occupations by talks by Miss Cummins of the I. B. O. and others, and by articles in the Bulletin by Dr. von Sholly, Josephine Pratt, and other successful alumnae. Miss Doty urges upon all applicants the necessity for promptly answering all communications from the office.

The Reunion Committee reports a highly successful Christmas Luncheon, held in the main lunch room, at which about one hundred and fifty alumnae were present. At the guest table were Dean Gildersleeve, Provost and Mrs. Brewster, Professor and Mrs. Robinson, several of the trustees, and Miss Morris and Miss Peck, representing the Senior Class and the Undergraduate Association.

Professor Robinson and the Provost entertained us with characteristic talks and the Dean then outlined the events of the past year and explained the plans for the Quarter Century Fund. Finally, Miss Peck told of the devices by which the "Undergrads." hope to raise money.

Plans for the Commencement Day Costume Parade and supper following it are now under consideration. From the costumes already selected by some of the classes, the parade promises to be picturesque. As to the supper, "the more, the merrier."

The Statistics Committee is making a card catalogue register of all alumnae to be kept in Miss Doty's office. That it may be full, accurate, and up-to-date, the committee will annually send out cards such as the one you received a few weeks ago and which we hope you have filled out and returned.

The Students' Aid Committee reports that with the gift of $300 from the Students Exchange in 1912, it has a fund of $6,284.66 which enables it to loan $785 annually. During the first semester eight girls have been assisted.

The newly organized Alumnae Committee on Athletics is working enthusiastically on enjoyable schemes for bringing together "grads." of all classes. During the winter a class has met on Tuesday and Thursday evenings in Thompson "Gym." to play basket-ball, hand-ball, to bowl and to swim. Plans are in the making to begin outdoor activities on Saturday afternoons, on the campus. The first practices in hockey will be held on Saturday, the 19th, at 3 sharp, or if it rains, on the 26th, and so on. Special arrangements for Alumnae use of the tennis-courts during the summer, as well as during the college term have been made. Next winter the Thompson "Gym." class will continue, and moreover, beginning in November and ending in March, it will be thrown open one evening a week solely for college women. Intercollegiate basket-ball, bowling, water-polo, etc., will be played, and the evening will be social as well as athletic. Many Barnard Alumnae have already joined. On another evening, a class in horseback riding, with special rates for Barnard girls will be organized at Durland's. Aren't you interested? Communicate at once with the Committee: Elsa Alsberg '02; Herlinda Smithers '09; Vera Fueslein; and Lillian Schoedler, Chairman, 249 W. 107th Street.

THE INTERCOLLEGIATE BUREAU OF OCCUPATIONS

HILDA J. HELLMAN

In October, 1912, the Intercollegiate Bureau of Occupations, a co-operative organization managed by the New York Alumnae of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Cornell, Mt. Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar, Wells, and Wellesley, completed a successful year. Of the 739 women who registered with the Bureau, many already held positions but wished help in learning of better opportunities. The number of positions filled during the year was 244 and 26 applicants were under consideration by employers on October first. The list of workers includes secretaries for literary, social, financial, and executive positions; investigators; workers in various branches of philanthropic service; laboratory assistants; bookkeepers; proofreaders; librarians; editorial writers; nurses; household administrators. Variety in types of work offered by employers has increased until it includes more than fifty occupational divisions.

Among the interesting placements is an Executive Secretary for an Emergency Relief Committee of the Red Cross Society; a statistician in a bureau of social research; a writer of fashion notes for a periodical; a landscape gardener; and a private secretary to make bookings for a lecturer. Salaries vary as widely as the types of work. In general, inexperienced women do not get more than $45 or $60 a month. For experienced professional women $1,500 to $2,500 a year is not unusual.

The Bureau charges a registration fee, payable at the time of registration, of $1.00 for one year, which is later deducted from the commission fee, or if no position be secured is refunded on request. The commission for a temporary position is six per cent. of the total salary received, and for a permanent position, three per cent. of the first year's salary.

BOTANICAL CLUB

The Botanical Club, Amy Goodlatte, Pres., boasts a membership of 68 members. On December 16, Professor MacDougal of the Carnegie Institute gave a lecture on "Biological Aspects of North African Deserts." In May will take place the annual tea in the laboratories.

PHI BETA KAPPA

The officers of Phi Beta Kappa are: Pres., Amy Loveman '01; Vice-Pres., Alice Dorothy Brewster '06; Secretary, Marion E. Latham '03; Treas., Harriet R. Fox '10. The members elected from 1910 are: Mabel Barrett, Gertrude S. Borchardt, Molly B. T. Coyle, Eleanor M. Doty, Mildred V. Hamburger, Marion Heilprin, Elsa S. Mehler, Louise Nyitray, Marjorie O'Connell, Vera M. Rees, Clare H. Reese, Etta M. Schweis, Dorothy A. Spear, Beatrice C. Steyman, Edith M. Valet.

THE GRADUATE DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION OF COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

The Graduate Dramatic Association was founded in 1909 by Barnard and Columbia graduates who still took a live interest in plays and in acting. At the monthly meetings there are discussions of current plays, and occasional talks on things dramatic by some authoritative speaker, besides the preparation of the annual play which is the regular business. In May, 1910, three one-act plays were given for the benefit of a scholarship fund for Barnard, raised by the New York Collegiate Institute. In 1911 a farce was given for the benefit of the Chapin Home. Last year the organization constituted the laboratory, so to speak, of Professor Baldwin's graduate course in play writing. One comedy so given was "Her First Assignment" by Fannie M. McLane '07. This year the club gave "Arms and the Man" on Feb. 15, and is now planning to give a series of short sketches.

The officers are: T. Hayden Hamilton '07, Pres.; Mary Nammack '10, Vice-Pres.; Daphne Dietrich Imbrie '10, Sec.; Walter E. Kelley '07, Treas. Among the Barnard members are Adele Carll '02, Marie L. Fontaine '06, Fannie McLane '07, Adelaide Requa '08, Adelaide Richardson, Herlinda Smithers, Jessie Cochran, and Eva vom Baur, all '09. As the membership which is limited to twenty-five, is not quite full, the association would be glad to receive an application from any alumna who is interested in its undertakings. The address of the secretary, Mrs. Imbrie, is 454 Riverside Drive.

UNDERGRADUATE ACTIVITIES

The Undergraduate Association has been interested in the fraternity investigation and in the building fund. Inter-class competition in the form of "The Solar System" has stimulated voluntary contributions; $600 has been raised since January first. It is planned to raise a large sum by giving a country fair instead of the Spring tea.

The delegates to the annual conference of the Women's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government, held in November at Wells, were Helen Dana, Undergrad., Pres., and Dorothy Fitch, Junior President.

The honor system which was passed last year has been working so successfully that it is hoped that it will be formally adopted by the faculty in the spring.

The Undergrad. play, Cyrano de Bergerac, is to be given on April 18 and 19.

The Senior Class, Gertrude Morris, Pres., serves tea weekly in its Study.

The Junior Class, Dorothy Fitch, Pres., gave The Adventures of Lady Ursula, in December. The Mortar-board is due any day, and the ball, to be held at the Astor, comes on April fourth.

The Sophomores, Helen Jenkins, Pres., gave an old-time atmosphere of excitement to Mysteries and hazing. The show, His Excellency, the Governor, presented in November was a financial and artistic success. The Dance was held in December in the Thompson Gymnasium.

The Freshmen, Carol Lorenz, Pres., have just given their show, an amusing skit on "crushes."

Greek games are to be held in the Columbia Gymnasium on April 5. This year it has been decided to charge admission—a benefit for the building fund. Alumnae desirous of attending can buy tickets from the chairmen, Edna Astruck '15, Marjorie Sisson '16, or pay at the door.

The four religious and philanthropic associations: Y. W. C. A., the Church Club, Craigie Club, and College Settlements' Association, have this year united under one director, Miss Mary Patchin. Each club has its own officers and activities but all are directed and advised by the Director. The Y. W. C. A. gave its large annual entertainment to welcome the Freshmen. The Settlement Association gave some Tableaux Chantants for the benefit of the building fund. All four combined in January to give the jolly "Phoebe Snow Dance."

The Société Française gave a successful entertainment early in the fall. In January it combined with the French Club of Columbia to give Sardoux's La Perle Noire.

The Deutscher Kreis also entertained the college in the fall. The German play, to be given with Columbia, will be presented in April. Several prominent speakers have addressed the club, among them Frau Muck.

The Suffrage, Socialist and Philosophy Clubs have brought many interesting speakers to college, but otherwise their activities have been confined to regular meetings.

The Athletic Association reports an active year. The autumn was occupied with hockey, and at the close of the interclass games, 1913 was ahead, gaining ten points towards Field Day. The Basketball season has just closed and preparations for baseball are under way. The 'Varsity lost its only game with the Alumnae, as well as its two with Teachers College, although the latter was defeated by the Alumnae. The 'Varsity was greatly handicapped by an accident to the Captain, Marjorie Hillas '15, which put her out of the game for two months.

Unique among Barnard Clubs is the Firelight Club. On Monday, January 4, 1912—the stormiest night of the winter—a devoted band gathered around Professor Trent in the Ella Weed Reading-room, before the splendid fireplace. In the glow of the firelight upon this cozy circle was founded the Literary Society, as it was first called. Its sponsors, Mr. Halle and Miss Fox of the English Department, have continued to keep it under Faculty Supervision instead of under Student Council.

Its organization is of the simplest, merely an elected executive committee of four members, headed by the president (this year, Gertrude Morris). The Meetings are open to all. Dues are low, as the sole expenditures are for log fires and door service. Recently the club has moved from the Ella Weed to the Brooks library, made available through the kindness of Miss Weeks, thus forming another link between Dorm. and college.

Among those who have addressed the club, besides several of the Barnard faculty, are Professors Erskine and Tassin, Dr. Joseph Jacobs of folk-lore fame, and Professor Cone of Normal College. Before the end of the meeting every speaker finds himself the target for all manner of questions, for there is something in the friendly atmosphere of an open fire peculiarly favorable to free discussion.

During these first months the club has been experimenting, looking for its proper sphere, which should not conflict with the many existing societies. Without any written constitution to crystalize its aim, an aim has gradually evolved in three-headed form. First, to widen acquaintance with modern literature which would be omitted in college courses; second, to encourage creation (witness "authors' night"); and third, to bring about friendly relations between faculty and students, such as are well-nigh impossible during the crowded days. The supreme example of this good-fellowship is the jolly Twelfth Night revel that celebrated the Firelight's first birthday. As the years go by it is expected that graduates will keep up their connection with the club—as evening meetings makes it feasible—and thus secure that much-desired and seldom-realized cutting across class lines.
